

HARDSCAPING

Design-build firm's outdoor living project cited for innovation

Staff Report | December 9, 2016

Share Tweet ShareThis Email Print

The Pinnacle Award-winning project by Ryan Hughes Design Build was commissioned by a Tampa, Florida, homeowner. Florida landscape architecture firm Ryan Hughes Design Build took home Luxury Pools & Outdoor Living's 2016 Pinnacle Award in the Innovative Design category for a nearly 5,000-square-foot outdoor space commissioned by a Tampa homeowner.

The complex design incorporated architectural elements with lounging and dining areas, fire and water features, custom textures, and state-of-the-art audio visual.

Based in Palm Harbor, Ryan Hughes Design Build describes the scope of its work as encompassing "everything outside the walls of the home, from the hardscape to landscape, right down to the outdoor furniture and accessories."

A licensed pool contractor and landscape architecture firm, the company says custom pools and spas, fire and water features, and "signature landscapes" are its specialties.

Here's a brief video showing another example of Ryan Hughes Design Build's work:

Ensuring beneficial bugs have adequate nooks, crannies
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG

What did one tree say to the other tree? Send carbon!
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG

On Valentine's Day, the rose still rules, as always
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG

International garden photographers capture gorgeous scenes
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG

How the heck did Groundhog Day get started, anyway?
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG

Five locations landscape architects provided a second chance
BY JILL ODOM
BLOG