Outdoor design can create warm, inviting, and cozy gathering spaces for family and friends anytime. During Thanksgiving, the wonders of the out-of-doors are especially worthy of gratitude and suitable for enjoyment due to such things as the warmth of custom fire features, the coziness of seating areas or the enchantment of mood-enhancing outdoor illumination. The exterior designers at Ryan Hugues Design are experienced in crafting each of these custom designs. Depending on the size and scope of an outdoor living space, fire features range from single fire pots to flaming wall sconces or sunken tile-clad fire lounges to built-in fire walls. Cozy has its own sense of wonder and feeling of gratitude when an entertaining space is crafted of levels of outdoor seating, designer exterior pillows as well as cast aluminum outdoor living sets fit for accommodating family-size gatherings. Outdoor illumination is especially well-suited for entertaining throughout the celebrations this fall creating outdoor enjoyment within sparkling spaces.

Transform your entertaining spaces into cozy, inviting retreats this Thanksgiving with thoughtful touches. Arrange seating around a fire pit for warmth and ambiance, allowing guests to enjoy the crisp autumn air comfortably. Incorporate plush throws and outdoor cushions to enhance coziness and create an intimate gathering spot. Festive lighting, like string lights or lanterns, adds charm and glow to the setting, keeping the mood festive as the sun sets. For an indoor touch, mix in seasonal accents like natural foliage and warm-toned table settings, giving your space an effortlessly welcoming feel perfect for fall gatherings
