

Villa Linda: Where Sophistication Meets Family-Friendly Charm

Ryan Hughes Design

February 26, 2024 by Esly Davis

Dive into the charm of a beautiful outdoor space that's both family-friendly and elegantly radiant. From enchanting fire features to the sun-kissed glow across the pool, the Villa Linda project by the esteemed Ryan Hughes is a testament to sophistication. Immerse yourself in the bespoke craftsmanship of custom outdoor rooms and porticos.

Photo Credit: Jimi Smith Photography

The central hub of the Villa Linda outdoor courtyard is a captivating space surrounded by protective porticos and lush greenery. Towering palm trees overlook a spacious pool area, featuring a sunken fire lounge and a cozy chaise lounging spot integrated into the pool.

Photo Credit: Jimi Smith Photography

Distinctive pillars mark the outdoor television lounge, equipped with multiple flat-screen TVs and comfy seating. Stone tile floors extend from the main courtyard into each outdoor room, where sturdy furnishings enhance the outdoor living experience. A dining table, bar, and grill area complete the patio, complemented by tall wood ceilings and artistic porcelain walls.

Photo Credit: Jimi Smith Photography

At one edge of the Villa Linda center courtyard, chaise lounges sit atop a concrete edged floating patio adjacent to a space-defining waterfall wall of all-glass tile glistening by day or night. This design by Ryan Hughes and his team, is a complex outdoor living area full of water and fire features, natural materials and calming venues. Each picture captures the essence of outdoor luxury and leisure, inviting viewers to explore the Villa Linda experience.

Photo Credit: Jimi Smith Photography

The Villa Linda project sets a new standard for outdoor living, blending sophistication with family-friendly features. It offers a space where relaxation and entertainment come together.

